CHID/LSJ/DIS ST 430 A: In Class Rough Draft Peer Review

Reviewer Name:

Name of Draft Author:

Organization Analyzed in Draft Analysis:

I will NOT grade your draft outline. This is an opportunity to work on your ability to provide constructive peer review and your score will reflect the thoroughness of your peer-review responses.

You are reviewing the critical content of the paper; you do not need to provide feedback on grammar or spelling. Please address the following prompts as thoroughly as possible:

1.) Does the author clearly state the purpose of the organization analyzed? What is that stated purpose? What population is served? Does the author include historical, social, cultural, and political contexts? Do they address representation? Is disability thoroughly addressed?

2.) Has the author included course materials and outside academic writings in their critical analysis of the organization and/or the population it serves? Are the theoretical connections clear?

3.) Does the paper discuss the multiple forms of representation related to the organizations self-representation and include a critical analysis of how news, media, and/or similar organizations represent the population served?

4.) Does the author provide a strong conclusion? Do they address disability, intersectionality and representation?

5.) Provide at least one issue or concept you would like to know more about after reading the paper.

6.) What did you find most interesting or compelling? Specifically, list the author strengths and describe what you like about the paper.
